EXOR S.p.A. (“EXOR”; EXO.IM), one of Europe’s leading listed investment companies and the largest shareholder of PartnerRe Ltd. (“PartnerRe”; NYSE:PRE), confirmed today that its capital structure will have no impact on the ratings of PartnerRe, including the BBB rating of the preferred shares, in the event EXOR acquires PartnerRe.

Standard & Poor's (“S&P”), the rating agency, has affirmed that EXOR is rated as an Investment Holding Company and therefore EXOR's rating and the ratings of its investee companies are independent of one another. EXOR's debt is not attributed to its investee companies, and the debt of its investee companies is not attributed to EXOR. These statements have been reviewed and affirmed by S&P.

Calculations publicized by PartnerRe which purport to aggregate the debt of EXOR and its investee companies are therefore wrong and do not follow S&P's rating methodology.

For PartnerRe preferred shareholders, this means that should PartnerRe accept EXOR’s binding offer for the Company, EXOR’s capital structure will not affect the ratings of PartnerRe, including the BBB rating of PartnerRe preferred securities.

PartnerRe has continuously misrepresented the impact of EXOR’s transaction by publicly claiming that the additional debt taken on by EXOR as part of the transaction would pose “considerable risk that the rating of [PartnerRe] preferred shares would be downgraded upon sale to EXOR.” This statement by PartnerRe has no merit and has not been endorsed by S&P.

Under the proposed EXOR transaction, PartnerRe would be a financially stronger company than a combined AXIS/PartnerRe. PartnerRe’s debt level would be unchanged and preferred shares’ current rating, terms, rights, listing and registration requirements would be maintained, along with the same tax treatment and financial reporting. In addition, preferred shareholders would benefit from lower leverage compared to the AXIS transaction and from EXOR's commitment to a more conservative dividend and capital distribution policy, without bearing any post-merger integration risk.

The PartnerRe Board has approved an inferior transaction in the form of the proposed AXIS amalgamation, which it continues to support by deliberately providing its shareholders with misleading and incorrect information as a scare tactic to lure votes for the AXIS transaction. EXOR calls on PartnerRe to cease misrepresenting facts and to provide shareholders with accurate information. This will allow shareholders to act in their best interest and vote AGAINST the AXIS transaction with confidence.

EXOR will also file today a detailed presentation regarding its all-cash $137.50 per share binding offer for PartnerRe and will begin meeting with PartnerRe investors and analysts to highlight the considerable strengths of its offer for both common and preferred shareholders and correct misleading statements by PartnerRe. EXOR believes its offer remains superior for all classes of PartnerRe shareholders as well as for employees and clients of PartnerRe.

EXOR is soliciting common and preferred shareholders to vote AGAINST the proposed AXIS transaction at the upcoming Special General Meeting of PartnerRe shareholders to be held on July 24, 2015. This will enable PartnerRe to accept EXOR's superior offer for the Company.

EXOR therefore continues to urge PartnerRe shareholders to vote the GOLD proxy card AGAINST all three proposals related to the AXIS transaction and asks shareholders not to sign or return any WHITE proxy cards they receive from PartnerRe. Shareholders who have already returned a WHITE proxy card, can change their vote by simply returning the GOLD proxy card.

PartnerRe preferred and common shareholders seeking copies of EXOR's proxy statement or with questions about the EXOR offer or voting their shares can contact EXOR's proxy solicitor, Okapi Partners LLC, at info@okapipartners.com or toll free at (877) 796-5274 (banks and brokerage firms should call +1 (212) 297-0720).
